

Australian Government
Attorney-General's Department

Classification, Legal Services and Native Title Division

25256
07/9007

Dear Mr -----

I refer to your enquiry of 13 December 2007 regarding the computer game Manhunt 2.

The Classification Board classifies films (including videos and DVDs), computer games and certain publications using the tools of the National Classification Scheme, a cooperative scheme involving the Australian Government and State and Territory Governments.

When making decisions, the Board applies criteria in the Classification (Publications, Films and Computer Games) Act 1995, the National Classification Code and the classification guidelines. Australian Government and State and Territory Government Ministers with censorship responsibilities agree to the Code and the classification guidelines. The Guidelines for the Classification of Films and Computer Games are available at www.classification.gov.au.

I can confirm that the computer game Manhunt 2 has not been submitted to the Board for classification. It is not possible to speculate on what the Board will classify this game once it is submitted for classification.

You may wish to contact Rockstar Games directly regarding the likely release date of this game in Australia.

I hope this information assists you.

Yours sincerely

Kathryn Reidy
Manager, Education and Communications
Classification Operations Branch
21 December 2007